

Centre for Person Centred Research Lunchtime Seminar Series 2024

The Centre for Person-Centred Research (PCR) is a transdisciplinary research centre based in the School of Clinical Sciences at AUT. You can find more about our work here:

<https://cpcr.aut.ac.nz/>

Our lunchtime seminars will include our PCR team members sharing their research with you, as well as inviting our PGR students and external collaborators to present. You are invited to bring your lunch so you can eat while you listen. Our presentations will never take up more than half the time so we will always have plenty of time for networking and discussion too!

In our next seminar, one of our colleagues will present findings from their doctoral work, centred on the broad theme of:

Navigating life and managing well after acquired brain injury

12-1pm, Wednesday 16th October | Room AF421 AUT North Campus

Dr Vicki Fryer

Doing Waiting Work: Older Adults' Lived Experience of Waiting for Community Occupational Therapy

Vicki is an Occupational Therapist working as a community occupational therapist in the Far North of Aotearoa New Zealand and currently manages the Occupational Therapy department and Community Rehabilitation Team. Vicki's interest in older adults' health and well-being led to her completing her Master and Doctoral research in this field.

This week's seminar will be in a slightly different format, with slightly longer given over to networking as this is the last meeting of the year. It will remain an in-person meeting, however Vicki will be presenting from off-site. We will try and keep her online for a while afterwards to facilitate conversation 😊

PLEASE NOTE NEW ROOM THIS WEEK - AF421, 4th floor of the new Tukutuku building.

(Go in through main entrance, past the big main staircase towards the lecture theatres and there is a lift on your right. Up to the 4th floor, go through the double doors to your left, and make your way through the shared office spaces to your right and through the next set of double doors.)

This is our last PCR Seminar for 2024. We will share dates for our 2025 series soon.

Look forward to seeing you there and being in conversation with you!
